YOUR TEETH....

Should have just as good care as you give to any other part of the body. Without good teeth how can you enjoy good health. Without good health how can you enjoy life. Almost always dyspepsia, indigestion, headache, neuralgia, bad breath and bad taste in the mouth are caused by decayed teeth, and can be cured by having the teeth fixed up, or if they are decayed very bad you can have them extracted without pain and replaced by a good set of artificial teeth, thereby enabling you to masticate your food properly, restore your health and given you a new lease on life.

Have your teeth fixed and save doctor's bills. We will examine your teeth free of charge and tell you what is best to have done. Teeth that are often considered to be too bad to fill can be crowned and made to do service for years.

Our prices for all kinds of dental work are very reasonable and our work is guaranteed to be first-class. We use none but the best materials. Gold Crowns, Porcelain Crowns, removable or stationary bridges inserted—they are the next thing to your own teeth. We are the only persons in the city who use Vitalized Air for extracting teeth. It is harmless, anyone can take it, and you do not feel the teeth being extracted. BEST SET OF TEETH ONLY $5.00.

BRIGHT SKIES!

Are Hoped for by Washingtonians Tomorrow,

During the Inauguration of President McKinley.

Is Too Busy to See Office Seekers,

But Receives a Delegation of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon,

Who Present Him With a Fraternity Badge—Cornelius N. Bliss Will Go in the Cabinet.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—The day before inauguration opened moist and warm, and by 10 o'clock a slow, steady drizzle had set in that cast discouragement on the visitor but gave hope for the great day tomorrow, because the official weather forecast, sent out about 10 o'clock, after a consultation by the best weather forecasters in the local service, had predicted that the day would be clear, cool and bracing.

The railroads continued throughout the night and day to pour constantly growing special trains into the city and the rush of military companies and civic organizations fairly begun, few of them having reached here yesterday. Their marching through the main streets livened up matters and lent picturesqueness to the scene.

Around the large hotels there was a crush and at the Ebbitt house, where President-Elect McKinley is staying, there was a perfect jam. He retired at a late hour last night and rose at an early hour for official Washington this morning, but in his short sleep he had found much rest and recuperation. When he appeared at his breakfast table about 8 o'clock he looked the picture of health and strength. The McKinley breakfast was a home-like meal and besides the president-elect and Mrs. McKinley and Mrs. McKinley, sr., no one was admitted to the breakfast room save two or three friends who had intended to come on with the presidential party but were delayed in their arrival until this morning. Mrs. McKinley also was much refreshed by her night's rest.

By 9 o'clock the lobby of the Ebbitt was crowded by persons anxious to meet the president-elect, either on personal business or from curiosity. So many of them were Ohio badges, and the name of Ohio was so often uttered in the talk that one was reminded of the famous phrase, "The United States of Ohio" current in the days of President Hayes and applied to Washington while the city was filled with aspirants for office. But while many came few were successful in the efforts to reach the ear of the president-elect.

Mr. Porter, his secretary, and the near friends who are looking after his comfort, realizing that Mr. McKinley had before him an exhausting day, even if he confined his receptions to cases of great and immediate importance, gave orders that only a chosen few be admitted and cards were generally refused at the desk. Senator-elect Hanna was among the earliest callers and of course he found no difficulty in making his way into the reserved section of the hotel.

About half past 9 o'clock notice came to Mr. McKinley that a delegation sought to meet him to make a presentation. An appointment had been made in advance for this call, so the president-elect descended from his rooms to the second floor of the hotel, where the delegation was in waiting. This was headed by Post Master General Wilson and included Hon. John G. Capers, of the attorney general's office, Rev. William B. Capers, of Virginia, Representative Harrison and W. D. Dunlap, of Alabama, Nathan Heard, of Pennsylvania, Judge Charles Howery, of the court of claims bench, and A. M. Austin, of Ohio. They were all members of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity and called to present to him a badge of the order.

The president-elect greeted his callers with the greatest cordiality. He was in good spirits and seeing Postmaster General Wilson in the van, was reminded of the old days of their service in the house of representatives. Taking him by the hand, he exclaimed:

"I have not seen you since the storm of last November. Come over by the window where I can see you plainly and make sure you look as you did in the good old days when you were on one side and I on another."

After reciprocating this greeting in the same spirit the postmaster general proceeded to make a little speech in entirely informal language. The president-elect is himself a member of Sigma Alapha Epsilon and still takes great interest in the welfare of the fraternity. The national convention of the order at St. Louis in December last provided for the purchase of and presentation of the badge and it is probably the handsomest and most costly badge possessed by any member of the order. The president-elect thanked the delegation in suitable terms and promised to wear the badge. The badge is a beautiful work of the jewelers' art and is studded thickly with diamonds.

When this ceremony was over the president-elect spent some time in exchanging greetings with the friends who had gathered in the parlor, and it was noticed that he gave a particularly warm greeting to Representative Harmon, of Pennsylvania, and held a whispered conversation with him.

Soon after 10 o'clock Mr. McKinley returned to his private apartments to dispose of some matters requiring his immediate attention connected with the inaugural ceremonies, being accompanied to his rooms by Secretary Porter.

Mr. McKinley apparently gave little consideration during the forenoon to the cabinet and probably for the reason that the matter to announce was not one for his consideration but for that of Mr. Cornelius N. Bliss, of New York, who has been tendered the cabinet appointment yet unfilled, and who has its acceptance under serious and more favorable consideration than heretofore.

The cabinet gossip this morning nearly all centered around Mr. Bliss. Mr. McKinley wants Mr. Bliss in the cabinet as the representative of the Empire state, and he still hopes to have him as a member of his official family notwithstanding the previous declinations of the New York dry goods merchant. A decision in the matter, it is understood must be reached before noon tomorrow and meanwhile there is a strong pressure on Mr. Bliss to induce him to accept. This seems to be having its weight and, while no definite announcement has yet been made and Mr. Bliss won't talk explicitly, the opinion at New York headquarters at the Arlington hotel was that Mr. Bliss finally would be found in possession of a cabinet portfolio.

The other members of the cabinet have been selected but not in all instances assigned. The final slate will not be made up until Mr. Bliss or some one else is settled upon.

When asked today by an Associated press reporter if he had decided to accept, Mr. Bliss refused to affirm or deny.

"They are trying to settle this thing the best they know how," he said, "and I am trying my best to help them but beyond this I can't say anything. I can't say a word about my presence in Washington outside of my own private affairs."

In reply to a question of how soon an announcement of an appointment by the new administration might be looked for, he said:

"Well I suppose they will have to make an announcement of some sort by tomorrow morning."

At ten minutes past 11 o'clock Mr. McKinley went to pay his official visit to President Cleveland at the white house. There was a double file of policemen at the F street entrance of the hotel, probably to prevent a crush of people rushing after the president-elect, for the hotel was crowded.

The president-elect's exit was made quietly. He came down the elevator and passed at once out to the carriage, driving quickly away, almost before anyone knew he was in the neighborhood.

Soon after his departure the Chas. L. Kurtz club, one of the largest of the republican league clubs of Ohio, marched up Fourth street to serenade him. They were rather crestfallen to find that he had slipped away, but did the next best thing and serenaded Mrs. McKinley, who, with the other members of the party in the hotel, watched them from the side windows.

Few people on the street along the route to the white house knew who were the occupants of the stylish carriage which swept rapidly along, and the president-elect was soon at the entrance of the house which is to be his home for the next four years.

Many sight-seers were in the white house grounds and in the library and east room. These were obliged by the police to fall back from the portico, so there was no obstruction to the passage into the house of Mr. McKinley. No one save his secretary, Mr. Porter, and Chairman Bell, of the inaugural committee, accompanied the president-elect. They were shown directly into the blue parlor, the official reception room of the white house, where they were met by President Cleveland and Secretary Thurber.

The president walked with much less stiffness than he has shown for the past two days. He sat up very late last night, disposing of the business which came to him from congress, and naturally he, as well as Mr. Thurber, showed the effect of their heavy labors, but with some easy foot gear, Mr. Cleveland managed to get about with a limp and the indications now are that unless he suffers from an unexpected recurrence of the painful attack of rheumatism which has afflicted him for the past few days the president will be able fully to meet the obligations of the ceremonies of tomorrow.

The meeting between the incoming and the out-going presidents lasted only a few minutes. The subject was naturally the weather. While they spoke of it, the outlook was rather depressing, with the sky veiled in light but moisture-dripping clouds and the bunting hanging rather limply from the grand stands, the wind having died away.

But the president had seen the special weather report in which Chief Moore staked his reputation on his prediction of fair weather for tomorrow and he congratulated Mr. McKinley on the prospect thus held out.

The president-elect returned to the Ebbitt house and in an hour Mr. Cleveland, following the custom in such cases, returned his call. Mr. Thurber accompanied him to the hotel.

The president's carriage was driven to the doorway and again the crowd was forced back to admit of the passage of the president.

As he walked through the rotunda of the executive mansion to his carriage the president plainly showed that he was suffering. His right foot was clad in a large cloth slipper and, although he favored the lame foot as much as possible, it was evident every step caused him pain. He required no assistance, however, Mr. Thurber walking by his side, and got into his carriage with little difficulty and was rapidly driven to the Ebbitt house, where the incoming president had his apartments. The carriage stopped at the north entrance to the hotel and the president, entering the house, was lifted at once in the elevator to the floor above, where he was received by Mr. McKinley. His call was even shorter than that of Mr. McKinley's upon him and within a few minutes he was on his way back to the white house. The reception was rather formal, as it must needs have been in view of the fact that the two men had parted only an hour before after a similar ceremony.

At the white house the president found waiting for him Secretary Lamont and Secretary Herbert, who were there to consult him respecting matters of business before their respective departments. Although the cabinet officers have cleared their desks of businesses far as possible and made all ready to turn their departments over to their successors, new subjects requiring immediate attention still come up. In addition they are expected to pass opinions upon each bill as it comes from congress and endorse with their approval or disapproval. With the flood of bills coming from the capitol and the large accumulation already on hand, the cabinet officers were very busy men last night and early today.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—The international monetary conference bill is now a law, President Cleveland signing it this afternoon.

THREE CENT BILL.

The House Defeats the Measure by a Majority of One.

The Senate Thrown Into Turmoil by Two Men Who Insisted on Discussing the Apportionment.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 3.—There were turbulent scenes in both branches of the legislative houses throughout the forenoon. The session is drawing to a close and the members are anxious to push through pet measures and the boodlers are anxious to get in their work. Chairman Pettit handed down the three cent street car bill for Indianapolis and took the floor in its behalf. The democrats, incensed at the action of the republicans in the Fort Wayne charter case, which they said undid the democratic majority in that city, used this as a pretext to oppose the three cent bill, which was supported chiefly by the republicans. Linck, a republican, however, could a great uproar, led the fight against the bill, and it was defeated by a vote of 48 to 49. To clinch the defeat, a motion to reconsider was tabled. The street car lobby made no attempt to suppress exclamations of satisfaction over their victory and there was free talk of the use of money in its behalf.

In the senate, the democrats, led by Senators Sweeney and O'Connor, demanded to be heard upon a bill repealing the apportionment law of 1885, but Lieutenant Governor Haggard held that the debate had been closed and declined to recognize them. Sweeney defied the chair and invited Mr. Haggard down on the floor to see whether he could force democrats into their seats. Senator O'Connor was forced into a chair by the doorkeepers, with much violence, after wildly gesticulating and shaking his fist at the lieutenant governor. The bill passed, the democrats refusing to vote until they were threatened with the $1,000 penalty for refraining.

REAM ARRESTED.

He is Charged With the Murder of a Baby.

Put Strychnine in the Coffee, But the One for Whom It Was Intended Did Not Drink It.

BOULDER, Col., March 3.—Walter Ream is in jail here, charged with murder, his alleged victim being the thirteen months old child of the Hayes family, with whom he boarded in Lafayette. Ream purchased some strychnine, telling the druggist he desired to poison some rats. It is alleged he put the poison in the coffee. Mr. Hayes, after tasting the coffee, found it bitter and threw it out, and thus saved his life. The child died in great agony an hour after drinking the coffee. It is believed Ream desired to poison Mr. Hayes so that he might marry Mrs. Hayes. Desmond Hayes, father of the poisoned child, and Ream are coal miners.

Anna E. Key is ill with the grip at her home, 10 Francis street.

OUR CHARTER

Is the Cause of a Hot Old Time.

Will Ryan and Clerk Kinney Have Words,

Which Lead to an Invitation to Fight.

The Caucus Bill Passes by a Small Margin.

It Now Only Awaits Governor Mount's Signature to Become a Law.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 3.—The house, after a hot struggle this morning, by a party vote, passed the Fort Wayne charter bill in regard to conciliation and it now awaits the governor's signature to become a law.

During the passage of the Fort Wayne charter bill there were stormy scenes in the house. The republicans, in sufficient number to destroy their majority, had gone to the senate to see the battle there. The speaker filibustered until the absent members could be called back.

When the roll was called, Representative Ryan, of Fort Wayne, said he wished the practice of the clerk of counting persons not present as present could be stopped.

This angered Clerk Kinney and he went up to Ryan and invited him to go outside of the hall.

The speaker demanded that Ryan's words be taken down as imparliamentary. Ryan declined to verify his words as reported and told the speaker to find out what he said.

The roll proceeded and the clerk reported that fifty-three had voted for and forty-seven against the bill.

Mr. Ryan showed this could not be, as Linck, republican, had voted against the bill and there were only fifty-three republicans in the house. The roll was corrected to fifty-two, Linck declining to stay with the republicans. He was paying back the help obtained from the democrats in defeating the three cent fare bill.

HIS CABINET.

President-Elect McKinley Completes the List.

Sherman, Gage, Alger, McKenna, Gary, Long, Wilson and Bliss Are the Favored Ones.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Cornelius N. Bliss, of New York, has been tendered a position in the cabinet by President-elect McKinley and has accepted. He probably will be secretary of the interior. Mr. Bliss is willing to take the secretaryship of the interior, though his friends are strongly desirous that he shall become secretary of the navy. The naval portfolio, however, would compel a change in the cabinet slate as made up already and would compel the shifting of ex-Governor Long, of Massachusetts. While, as stated, it is not definitely settled what position Mr. Bliss will take the probabilities are that it will be the interior department. The make up of the new cabinet, if this probability becomes a settled fact, therefore will be as follows:

Secretary of State—John Sherman, of Ohio.

Secretary of Treasury—Lyman J. Gage, of Illinois.

Secretary of War—Russell A. Alger, of Michigan.

Attorney General—Joseph McKenna, of California.

Postmaster General—James A. Gary, of Maryland.

Secretary of Navy—John D. Long, of Massachusetts.

Secretary of Agriculture—James Wilson, of Iowa.

BLISS ACCEPTS.

Major McKinley telegraphed this morning to Governor Long:

"Your appointment stands secretary of the navy."

Governor Long's friends have telegraphed him to come on to Washington at once. All the members of the cabinet are on the ground. Cornelius N. Bliss has accepted the secretaryship of the interior with the understanding that the appointment is not to stand if any other arrangements can be made today, that he shall hold it no longer than six months and for less time if the president shall find a substitute.

THE FIGHTERS.

Mysterious Billy Smith Added to the List.

CARSAN, Nev., March 3.—"Mysterious Billy Smith," who is to fight George Green, has arrived from New York, accompanied by Henry Baker, of Chicago. It is understood that Dan Stuart will quietly slip away to San Francisco very soon for needed rest.

WORK SUSPENDED.

Unskilled Laborers Strike and Bring on the Shut Down.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, March 3.—Work in the Globe Ship Building company's yards was suspended today by reason of the strike of the unskilled workmen.

The strike of the helpers has made it necessary for the company to lay off between 300 and 400 skilled workmen.

Miss Caroline Krimmel, who has been very ill of pneumonia, is recovering.

ELECTED OFFICERS.

Indiana Order of Knights of the Golden Eagle

Hold Their Seventh Annual Session—Marion Chosen as the Next Place of Meeting.

MUNCIE, Ind., March 3.—The seventh annual session of the grand castle of the Knights of the Golden Eagle of Indiana was held in this city, and was attended by nearly 200 visiting members. The following new officers were elected:

Past Grand Chief—William Roland, Anderson.

Grand Chief—W. H. Bales, Winchester.

Grand Vice Chief—Jessie Harris, Bartonia.

Grand High Chief—H. G. Mitchell, Union City.

Grand Keeper of the Exchequer—J. B. Fortenbaugh, Harrisville.

Grand Trustees—B. M. Cobb, of Huntington, and E. C. Trib, of Union City.

Grand First Guard—O. H. Marks, of Albany.

Grand Second Guard—W. R. Forkner, of Anderson.

Representative to Supreme Castle at Trenton, N. J.—S. M. Harlan, of Union City.

Marion was selected as the next place of meeting, first Tuesday in March, 1898. The visitors were banqueted by the ladies. The meeting was to last two days, but was finished last night.

MOVING TROOPS.

Revolutionary Movement on the Brazilian Borders.

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay, March 3.—The country is again disturbed by news of the seriousness of the revolutionary movement on the Brazilian borders. While the government affects a belief that the uprising is not serious, it is reported that 3,000 men are advancing upon Cerro Largo. The police forces of the republic have been defeated in one encounter at Sollo Chico. The mobilization of the national guard of Argentina continues and many battalions have already gone into camp. A correspondent in Rio Janeiro, Brazil, telegraphs that a body of the insurgent fanatics, while reconnoitering at Canudos, had an engagement with the federal troops. Captain Pinheiro, of the Brazilian police, was killed.

DEATH IN A FIRE.

Two Persons Meet That Fate at Wheeling, West Virginia.

WHEELING, W. Va., March 3.—Early this morning inmates of Mrs. Mary Ferrell's boarding house, on the south side, were aroused by screams from a room occupied by John Henderson, forty-five years old, a porter, and his thirteen-year-old son, Henry, and James Brady, another porter. The house was filled with smoke and Brady burst through a door and dragged Henderson and the boy out. Henderson and the boy were both terribly burned and both died before 9 o'clock. Brady was very seriously scorched, and it is feared he will die also. An examination showed that the fire was the work of an incendiary.

CAUSED A SENSATION.

Expulsion of Everingham From Chicago Board of Trade.

CHICAGO, March 3.—G. S. Everingham, formerly of the great lard firm of McGeoch, Everingham & Co., has been expelled from the Chicago board of trade by unanimous vote of the directors. He was charged with having made false and fictitious reports of purchases and sales. The verdict caused a sensation in board of trade circles, as it was not believed that conclusive evidence had been secured. Everingham's membership dates back seventeen years, at which time he came here from Milwaukee and went into business with Peter McGeoch.

WILSON GOES TO PRISON

For Sending Obscene Matter Through the Mails.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 3.—James B. Wilson, editor of the People, was yesterday sent to the northern prison for a term of two years for sending his paper, containing obscene matter, through the mails. The paper has been a "plague spot" on the city morals for years. Application was made to President Cleveland for his pardon, but it was refused, the president saying that the punishment was none too severe.

Female Complaints—Welcome News.

It is a fact that our women suffer from female complaints and are consequently weak, tired, nervous, dragged-out and full of pains and aches. Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th St., New York City, who is without doubt the most successful specialist in curing female complaints, offers to give free consultation by mail to all women suffering from these distressing weaknesses, discharges, pains and irregularities. Consult Dr. Greene by letter and he will write you carefully explaining all your symptoms so plainly that you will understand exactly what ails you. Write now. He can and will cure you.

Suicide of a Veteran.

MARION, Ind., March 3.—George Long, a veteran, was found at the Brunswick hotel in a dying condition. He expired a short time afterward. A half empty vial of morphine was found in his pocket. Long was a member of company D, sixteenth Connecticut infantry, and was formerly a member of the soldiers' home here. He was dishonorable discharged on the 2d of February for marrying a lewd colored woman.

PROVED FATAL.

Little Clarence Haley Dies of His Terrible Injuries.

The Child Was Scalded a Few Days Ago, and Suffered Awful Agony Until Death Relieved Him.

At the hour of 2 o'clock this morning, Clarence, the two and a half year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Haley, died from the effects of a fearful scalding received last Friday. The accident happened while the child was playing about floor. Mrs. Haley had placed a bucket of hot water on the floor of the kitchen, intending to scrub. The little one tumbled into it, thereby receiving the burns that caused its death. The flesh of the child's legs and lower part of its body was cooked and dropped off in patches. Although Dr. Schilling did everything possible to save the sufferer's life, his efforts were unavailing except to ameliorate in a slight degree its awful suffering. Mr. Haley is a conductor for the street railway company and his fellow employes have tendered their united sympathy.

THE KING FIRM.

Defies the Powers and Stands Up for Cretans.

Greeks Have a Two Hours' Fight With Bashi Bazouks at the Village of Sata Rotes.

CANEA, Island of Crete, March 3.—An engagement lasting two hours took place last evening between the Greeks on the heights of Malaxa and the Bashi Bazouks of the villages of Narnkuon and Tchinetria.

ATHENS, March 3.—M. Dyonisois, the archbishop of Retimo, accompanied by three Cretan deputies, has presented to the king a memorial urging the union of Crete and Greece and begging him to persist in his patriotic attitude despite the pressure of the powers. The Cretans, the memorial points out, are unwilling to lay down their arms before their desire for union has been accomplished. King George replied that he was not deviating by a hair's breadth from the original policy announced.

An Albanian force of 1,200 troops, with arms and ammunition which recently reached Janina, has been sent thence to various places in Macedonia and Epirus. Eight hundred Mohammedan Albanians have started for Elassona. The Greek war ships, under Admiral Miaoulis, have arrived at the Piraeus. It is officially stated that the Greek troops concentrated on the Turkish frontier number 20,000 men. Captain Sachlouris has succeeded Commodore Rleneck in command of the Greek fleet in Cretan waters.

M. Limotheus, the Cretan archbishop, who arrived at the Piraeus recently, died after landing. The former military governor of Crete, Ibrahaim Edhem Pacha, has reached the Piraeus on his way to Constantinople.

THREE EXPLOSIONS.

A Fashionable Quarter Mysteriously Shaken Up.

In the Dead of Night Houses Rock and Frightened Occupants Fly From Their Beds.

CHICAGO, March 3.—Three mysterious explosions occurred last night, apparently in the vicinity of Chicago avenue and the lake. The first explosion was so severe that it rocked buildings and sent residents of the fashionably lake shore drive quarter flying from their beds. The other two explosions following soon after were not so severe. Notwithstanding denials by contractors the explosions are supposed to have been caused by blasting with dynamite in the northwest land tunnel.

BRIBERY.

Kansas City Stock Yards Men the Guilty Ones.

Two Kansas Senators Offered $2,000 to Support a Certain Measure—They Indignantly Refuse.

TOPEKA, Kan., March 3.—A sensation was sprung in the Kansas state senate today. Two members, Senators Titus and Jumper, arose and said that they had each been offered $1,000 to support a certain measure concerning the Kansas City stock yards. The parties were named and one of them, Al Touchie, has been placed under arrest.

IMMIGRATION BILL.

It Passes Over the Veto of President Cleveland.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—The house has passed the immigration bill over the president's veto, by a vote of 193 to 37.

Mrs. A. P. Jackson, of 71 Organ avenue, who was dangerously sick, is reported better today.

Mrs. Ungemach, wife of the professor of St. Paul's schools, left this morning for Boston.

J. D. Williams, expert accountant, corporation lawyer and promoter, 20 East Columbia St. Telephone 239.

HENRY BURGESS.

Former Well Known Citizen Dies at Cambridge, Neb.

Sad Circumstances Surrounding the Death of Henry J. Schrode, an Actor—Other Deaths and Funerals.

News reached this city today of the death of Henry Burgess, sr., formerly of this county, at Cambridge, Neb. Mr. Burgess was very prominent in Fort Wayne at one time, having money invested in various enterprises. He built the Burgess block, now known as the Bank block. Although his home was at New Haven, he spent much of his time here, looking after his financial interests. Deceased was born in Litchfield, Conn., October 18th, 1810, and was therefore aged eighty-six years, four months and ten days. He united with the M. E. church in 1862. Surviving him are two children, Mrs. Abbie Coleman, of Lebanon, Ky., and Henry Burgess, jr., of Lincoln, Neb.

AN ACTOR DEAD.

Henry J. Schrode, an actor, died at the Randall hotel last evening, of a complication of diseases, of which pneumonia was predominant. Mr. Schrode was a member of Hanlon's "Superba" company, which appeared here last week, doing an acrobatic specialty with his two brothers. He was taken ill at Lima with a bad cold and was unable to act when he reached here. He steadily grew worse until his death. The case is surrounded by extremely sad circumstances. Mr. Schrode was soon to be married to Miss Jessie Kelm, an accomplished young lady, of Troy, N. Y., who, with her friend, Miss Nellie Ayers, arrived just in time to see him die. He was a man of most excellent character, and was held in the highest esteem by his associates on the stage and by the many others who enjoyed his friendship. He was yet in the dawn of his professional career, which was bright and promising by reason of his marked ability and his age, being only a little past twenty-nine years old. The remains were taken in charge by Funeral Director Peltier, who embalmed them. This evening the body will be shipped to Philadelphia, the family home, accompanied by the two brothers, William C. and John G. Schrode, and the two young ladies heretofore mentioned. At Philadelphia a sorrowing mother and married sister await their coming.

OTHER DEATHS AND FUNERALS.

The funeral of Mrs. Sophia Luehrs will take place tomorrow at 1:30 p. m. from the house and 2 o'clock from Zion's Lutheran church.

The funeral of the late John Sohrer took place this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence, 36 Wells street, under the auspices of Concordia lodge, I. O. O. F., of which he was a member.

The funeral of Mrs. Caroline Kanne, took place this afternoon at 2 o'clock from St. Paul's Lutheran church, the Rev. Miller officiating.

The funeral of Mrs. Frederick Kanne, widow, took place from the residence of her son, No. 170 Madison street this afternoon. There were short services at the house at 2:30 and at 2 o'clock from St. Paul's Lutheran church, Rev. Miller officiating.

John Dollarhite, a prominent farmer residing in Maumee township, died on February 28, of inflammation of the bowels and grip. He was aged forty-three years, five months and twenty-three days. He leaves a widow, two sons and a daughter, besides a father, two brothers and a sister. Mr. Dollarhite was an honest, hard working farmer and a true Christian. For many years he was a member and officer of the Church of God but a few years ago he transferred to the Methodist church. At the time of his death he was a steward and trustee of the latter congregation. The funeral took place yesterday and was very largely attended. The interment was in the cemetery at Maysville.

"The Deacon's Daughter."

Mr. Archibald A. Gunter, one of the best known American authors, wrote this play for the late "Annie Pixley," who died leaving a fortune of $200,000. Since then the author has been looking around for a soubrette to step into Miss Pixley's path, and has succeeded by putting this play in the hands of the pretty and well known actress, Miss Lillian Kennedy.

A NEW HOME.

Young Women's Christian Association Will Move.

Commodious Residence on West Berry Street to be Converted Into a Model Association House.

The Young Women's Christian association will shortly move into new quarters. Ever since the association was organized it has occupied the handsome brick residence, owned by J. F. W. Meyer, on Washington boulevard. Mr. Meyer's desires to have the house vacated for the use of his son-in-law, Will Paul, jr., and notification to that effect has been in the hands of the management of the association for some time. The most desirable building, size and location and cost considered, is the double three-story brick residence at Nos. 51 and 53 West Berry street, which is owned by John H. Bass. Miss Marian Hoagland, in behalf of the association, had a talk with Mr. Bass last evening and he has agreed to make such changes and improvements as may be required by the institution and it is likely that a lease of the premises will be closed this week. The interior arrangement of the building will be considerably altered and when the new rooms are opened they will excel in many particulars the old ones.

DOUBLE HEADER.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Helling Receive Severe Injuries.

Both are Rendered Helpless—A Lad Named Jacobs Injured by Malicious Companions—Other Accidents.

Fate has bestowed serious misfortune upon the household of Fred Helling, of Washington boulevard. Mr. Helling and his wife are both almost helpless from the effects of injuries. Sunday Mrs. Helling slipped on the doorstep, falling heavily to the ground fracturing her right leg in two places, and dislocating her elbow. The following day Mr. Helling was climbing into a loft of the barn when he fell, fracturing one rib and bruising himself badly.

Late yesterday afternoon the fire department was called to 49 Douglas avenue. The house at that address is owned by Gottlieb Niemann, and F. Y. Gross was moving his family into it. A gas pipe under the floor of the kitchen leaked, and when Mr. Gross started a fire there was an explosion which set fire to the timbers. The blaze was extinguished in a few moments. The loss is insignificant, but had the department not been prompt there would have been a disastrous fire.

Joseph Leffer, of Argos, Ind., was brought to this city last night and taken to the St. Joe hospital, to receive medical treatment. A couple of weeks ago Mr. Leffer ran a rusty nail in his hand and the wound has refused to heal. Signs of incipient blood poisoning are apparent.

Albert Bruner, an East Washington street lad, upset a pan of boiling water on his legs and was badly scalded.

While returning from school, a son of Eli Jacobs, of 21 Chicago street, was pushed down by some of the larger boys and suffered a fracture of the bones of the left forearm. The injury is a bad one. Some time ago, the same arm was broken, and it had not yet entirely healed.

PERCY IS GAY.

Young Man Named Everett in an Unenviable Role.

Procures Credit Upon Representation That He is Connected With the Polk Directory Company, and He Isn't.

This morning John Andrews called upon the chief of police to state that a young man named Percy Everett is going around town representing that he is connected with the Polk Directory company, and thereby getting credit. He says the fact became known when Ripps, the Broadway liveryman, presented a bill to him for carriage hire contracted by Everett, who, after using the rig, told the liveryman to call at the Polk office, in the Bass block, and get the money. Mr. Andrews was told that the police could do nothing with the case unless he or somebody else would swear out a warrant. This he did not want to do, and Everett is still at large. The young man has just returned from the penitentiary, having been sent up from this county. At one time he was employed by Mr. Andrews, but that gentleman discharged him long ago.

POLICE NOTES.

Superintendent Gorsline has received further particulars of the burglary at Paulding, Ohio, and it has been learned to a certainty that the five tramps arrested here on suspicion are innocent of the affair. It appears that O. E. Leonard, jeweler, locked his prominently located store and went to supper at 6 o'clock, lighting his place before going. During his absence tramps gained entrance by breaking out a big window, and pocketed $700 worth of watches and diamonds, and escaped as they entered. Two of the burglars have been arrested, but another one is still at large.

Police Sergeant Henry Harkenreider has recovered from an illness of three weeks' duration and is again on duty. Officer Spillner, who has been acting as sergeant, has gone back on his beat.

Joseph Vall, charged with breaking the seal of a freight car belonging to the Lake Shore railway, was arraigned before the mayor this morning and was fined $1 and costs for malicious trespass. Vall was arrested at Shiloh by a constable who brought him here for trial.

STORM SWEPT.

Fierce Gales Lash the British Waters Into a Fury.

LONDON, March 3.—Terrific gales are prevailing inland and along all the coasts. Much damage has been done to property and many wrecks have occurred. No loss of life, however, has been reported up to the present.

Miss Josephine Cope, cashier for S. B. Thing & Co., was unfortunate enough to lose her pocket book containing between $12 and $13 last evening, either on East Lewis or Calhoun streets. The finder will be rewarded by leaving the purse at the S. B. Thing & Co. shoe house.

Religious—Prayer Meetings at the Various City Churches.

The grip is said to be prevalent again in a light form. Its victims say ugly things when they hear the adjective applied to it.

Fifty applications for consulates have been filed from one district in Massachusetts. The down east men are literally crazy for offices.

The two big events of this month are the inauguration of McKinley tomorrow and the Corbett-Fitzsimmons prize fight on the 17th inst.

The republican governor of West Virginia has bestowed two of his best offices on gold standard democrats. He was paying political debts.

According to all promises—made by the republicans—prosperity ought to begin tomorrow. The Sentinel sincerely hopes these promises will be verified.

Councilmen-at-large will ere long be only offices of the past in Fort Wayne. The legislature has so decreed it, and after the next election we will have no councilmen-at-large but instead thereof two councilmen from each ward.

Notwithstanding the unusual interest taken in the inauguration this year and the great preparations that have been made, it is not expected that the crowds in attendance will be so large tomorrow as upon some former similar occasions. After all, those who have staid at home will learn just as much about the details of the event as those in Washington, for they will be furnished with a full account of it in tomorrow evening's Sentinel.

The Retiring Congress.

The Fifty-fourth congress, which will expire by limitation on Thursday, will pass into history as a record-breaker for long speeches, big appropriations and the number of bills and resolutions it failed to pass. The speeches have been made for home consumption and not with any desire or expectation of promoting wise legislation; the appropriations have been as lavish as the state of the treasury and Speaker Reed's determination would permit; the number of bills and resolutions introduced reached 13,500 in the house alone. Most of these bills and resolutions failed to pass—a desirable result as to a large proportion of them that must be placed to the credit of the outgoing congress, whatever else may be truthfully said to its discredit.

Jingoism and lavish extravagance in appropriating money that the state of the government revenues did not justify may be regarded as the distinguishing characteristics of those who have essayed the role of legislative statesmanship during the past two years. The British lion's tail was twisted times without number, and there has been no end of senatorial fist-shaking at Spain. That we did not get involved in a foreign war or two was due solely to a general understanding at home and abroad that senators and representatives were breathing out threatenings and slaughter in order to make themselves solid with constituents and not with any real desire to get anybody killed in battle.

On the score of economy nothing can be said in praise of the retiring congress except that it has been economical in the wrong places, because it has been extravagant where it should not have been. It is the third congress to appropriate more than a billion of dollars. The total appropriations for the two sessions will amount to $1,050,923,411.

This is over $61,000,000 in excess of the appropriations by the Fifty-third congress. It surpasses by more than $25,000,000 the highest previous record—that of the first billion dollar congress. The appropriations for this year amount to $7.38 per capita on a population of 72,000,000. The per capita in 1890 was $5. The average annual increase in expenditures during the last ten years over the preceding decade has been $125,000,000. These are startling figures indeed and will be enough in the few years to come to make voters stop and think about which party it was that saddled this mammoth indebtedness upon them.

What congress failed to do that should have been done would fill a book and it would be almost an endless task to enumerate them. The fifty-fourth congress will pass into history as a congress of great opportunities which it failed recognize and act upon.

After the Postoffices.

President-elect McKinley will find seekers for office for every place at his disposal. The Blue book has been studied carefully by hundreds of citizens anxious to serve their country, and, though the civil service law has restricted to a great extent the number of places at his disposal, there remain many desirable billets, aside from the cabinet, whose composition has been practically complete for some time.

No field embraces more positions over which contests will be made by aspiring candidates than the postal service. There are just 70,612 postoffices in the country, and most of these change hands with every administration. Of these over 66,500 are fourth-class postoffices, and 20,000 of these 66,000 are money-order offices, or ones that pay well. The retiring administration is the first one to fix a four-year tenure of office, but this, of course, is not binding. These fourth-class appointments will be made all through the four years of the incoming administration. Of the presidential postoffices, about 250 will be at the disposal of Mr. McKinley during his first month in office. There are forty cases of presidential postmasters' commissions already expired, not acted on by the postoffice department, and thirty-eight more will expire during March.

There are 129 nominations of presidential postmasters upon which the senate has so far taken no action, and probably 100 of these will be returned to the postoffice department without senatorial action, and thus be left to McKinley men. The remaining ones—about fifty—are offices where the removal of the present postmaster doubtless will be immediately demanded and acceded to. The principal presidential offices where the postmasters' terms will expire next month are Meadville, Pa., on the 23d; Stamford, Conn., 30th; Augusta, Ga., 20th; Lansing, Mich., 23d; Cadiz, Ohio, 27th, and Pendleton, Ore., 29th. There will be forty-nine more expirations of commissions in April.

In the department proper the only offices outside of the civil service are the four assistant postmasters-general of the postoffice department, the private secretary and stenographer and the corps of laborers. Semi-attached to the department are the two commissioners to investigate the overtime claims of lettercarriers, now A. B Hurt, ex-doorkeeper of the house, and Judge Lorenz. The former draws not only the $5 per diem paid as commissioner, but also $2,000 per annum as assistant superintendent of the free delivery system of the department. Both of these offices probably will be vacated early. Assistant Attorney-General Thomas is a strong gold man, who has made a great record and may stay.

THE DOOR OF HOPE

Return Thanks to Societies of Young People.

Editor Sentinel:

The inmates of the Door of Hope desire to express their thanks through your paper for the kindly interest shown them by the different societies of young people who have visited them in the last four weeks. They are indebted to members of the Christian Endeavor society from the Third Presbyterian church for a very pleasant and instructive service on last Sunday evening. The regular Tuesday evening prayer meeting is always provided for by the board of managers and the Bible class, with exercises on Wednesday afternoon, by Miss Josie Page. The Christian Endeavor societies having offered their services for Sunday evenings, is especially acceptable to the inmates on account of the time, and they highly appreciate the kindness of all those who come to them on that evening.

BASE BALL FINGER.

Rœntgen Rays Responsible for an Important Discovery.

Interesting News Concerning the Inter-State Circuit—Chicago Unions Will Play Here.

The Rœntgen rays are responsible for an interesting discovery in regard to the base ball finger, and it remained for Dr. C. H. Rosenthal, of Cincinnati, a son of Dr. Rosenthal, of this city, to reveal the interesting fact.

The proneness of ball players who had a finger broken to have a stiff finger thereafter has frequently excited comment among physicians. Men in other vocations broke their fingers, but when healed no stiffness resulted. Recently a young man, who had a finger broken last year during a game, submitted his hand to the X rays, under Dr. Rosenthal's experiments and then the cause of the stiffening was revealed. An ordinary fracture of one of the joints of the fingers is either a break directly or diagonally across. In the "base ball finger" the X ray revealed that the fracture was longitudinal, the bone was simply split by being pressed down upon the next joint. This is caused by the ball striking with fearful force upon the tips of the fingers and driving the joints back upon each other. The result is a longitudinal fracture and a failure to know this fact has resulted in the stiffening of many fingers. Physicians have treated the base ball fracture the same as any other, and the result is that when the knitting together of the bones is completed the finger is forever stiffened. Dr. Rosenthal recommends that all ball players as soon as they fracture a finger submit it to the X rays.

BASE BALL NOTES.

"Chic" Stahl will soon report to Boston.

"Goat" Fitch has signed to play second base with Youngstown.

The management of the Chicago Unions has written Mr. Meyer to secure a date here for an exhibition game, and he has given them the choice of several dates early in April.

The uniforms of the Akron team will consist of navy blue shirts and trousers, and black caps and stockings. The word "Akron" will appear in white letters across the front of the shirts.

Manager Rinehart, of the Springfield team, still contends that he will have the strongest aggregation of ball players he was ever with, and that he will set a fast clip for those who have aspirations for the Inter-State league pennant.

The base ball "umpire" of the Youngstown Telegram modestly claims that Manager Schebble's team will not only be one of the first division, but the very first of the first division. "Blessed is he that bloweth his own horn."

Manager Cooke has signed a lot of good ball players. If he gets a chance he will sign some more. When the season opens and the Fort Wayne club gets down to business, all of these players will not be kept on the salary roll. From these men the best players will be selected and the others dropped.

The Youngstown Telegram registers a violent kick upon the selection of Akron in place of Mansfield for a berth in the Inter-State league. Akron, it argues, has had ball clubs time and again which were compelled to succumb on account of lack of patronage. On the other hand Mansfield games were always well attended and the fans were enthusiastic in support of their local team. To be sure Akron has the advantage in point of population, but the size of the city is not always an indication of its base ball patronage. That has been proven by the history of the National league where some of the small cities proved more profitable than the larger ones. It is understood that Manager Struthers is not receiving the support he ought to from the Akronites, and there is a bare possibility that the Akron deal will fall through. If it does the Telegram will have its wishes gratified, for Mansfield is all ready to jump into its place in such an emergency.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 3.—The court of appeals has decided that the Percy-Gray racing law is constitutional an that the methods of book making allowed by the racing commission are in accordance with the law. The cases decided were the appeal of the people from dismissal of actions brought against President Lawrence, of the Westchester racing association, and Joseph Sturgess, a bookmaker.

Opium Advances.

San Francisco, March 3.—Owing to a seizure by treasury agents of contraband opium valued at $400,000, and a further seizure worth $20,000 later, the price of opium has advanced $3 per pound. All the opium in the city is now held at $15 per pound and is expected to advance to $20.

Railroad Completed.

Kansas City, Mo., March 3.—The last angle bar in the Kansas City, Pittsburg and Gulf railway, connecting Kansas City with Shreveport, La., has just been placed in position near Horatio, Ark. This marks the partial completion of Kansas City's pet scheme, namely the building of a railroad from Kansas City to the Gulf, by which the Gate city of the west and southwest could become a factor in eastern freight rate competition. The officers say trains will be running regularly, March 10, between Kansas City and Port Arthur, Tex.

YOUNG MATHEMATICIANS.

Some Queer Figuring For Their Amusement and Instruction.

In what month and on what day of the month were you born? Write down the number of the month and to the right of it the number of the day. Multiply by 2, add 5, multiply by 50, add your age, subtract 365 and then add 115. The result will be the number of the month and the day of your birth as well as your age. Thus:

Suppose you were 16 on March 7. March is the third month, so you write down 3 and to the right of it 7. Now multiply by 2, add 5, multiply by 50, add your age, 16; subtract 365, add 115, and you have 3,716—that is, you were born in the third month on the seventh day, and your age is 16. Try the process with any person's age, and you will get a similar result.

If you take any number consisting of three consecutive digits, like 234, and permute them, making six numbers, then add these up, divide by 6 and tell me the quotient, I will tell you the number thought of. In this case the quotient always consists of three equal numbers. The number thought of will consist of one of these equal numbers and of the next lower and the next higher number. Thus:

324
342
423
432

Dividing 1,998 by 6, we get 333, so that 3 is the middle digit of the number thought of.

Here is a queer bit of reasoning. What is wrong about it?—4 minus 4 equals 2 minus 2, since each is zero. Divide each side of the equation by 2 minus 2, and we find that 2 equals 1. Stated mathematically, $4-4=2-2$.

Hence $\frac{4-4}{2-2}=\frac{2-2}{2-2}$; that is, $2=1$.

We have spoken of permuting. The subject of permutations is an interesting one. In how many ways do you suppose, for example, it is possible for the 12 clubs of the National Baseball league to wind up at the close of the season? Let us see.

Call the clubs by the letters A, B, C, D, etc. The first letter, A, can, of course, have but one arrangement; but, taking in B, we find that we now have two arrangements possible, AB and BA—that is, twice as many as one letter. Now bring in the third letter, C. With AB we can arrange C in three ways—CAB, ACB and ABC—and with BA we can arrange C in three more ways, making 6 ways in all—that is, 3 letters may be arranged in three times as many ways as 2 letters. Similarly we shall find that 4 letters may be arranged in 4 times as many ways as 3 letters.

By proceeding in this way, we find that the 12 clubs may be arranged in as many ways as 1 times 2 times 3 times 4, and so on up to and including the whole number of clubs. If you will multiply the first 12 numbers together, you will find that the product is 479,001,600, which number represents the number of possibilities of the case. If it were undertaken to print all the possible guesses at the relative standing of the clubs at the conclusion of a season therefore, and we allow two square inches for each guess, the paper required would cover 152 acres of ground.—Philadelphia Times.

THE SWINGING DOOR.

Many Persons Will Persist In Opening the Wrong One.

In olden times it was said of the inhabitants of a certain great city that a large number of them did not know their right hands from their left. That was a lamentable state of things, and to read of it awakens an emotion of compassion in the breasts of the men and women of the more favored nineteenth century. But there is reason to believe that right here in New York city, as the century is drawing to a close, there are a goodly number of people afflicted in much the same way as were those of Nineveh in the long ago.

The number of swinging doors in this town is legion, and it is a rule almost without an exception that where one swinging door is there is another also. That is to say the law of the fitness of things prescribes that swinging doors go in pairs, and this is true generally no matter whether the doors swing in one direction or in both. Now, there is a well established rule of the road in this country. It is that when people meet they should turn out to the right. If that rule is founded in common sense, as it seems to be, it follows that when one starts to pass through a pair of swinging doors he should take the one on the right hand rather than the other.

Observation shows, however, that there are hundreds, yea, thousands, of men in this city who consider this rule more honored in the breach than the observance. Nor are men the only offenders. Many women are employed in office buildings in all parts of the city, and they, too, often manifest lamentable ignorance of the principle that one should keep to the right instead of the left. Why this is thus might be an interesting question for the psychologist. The thing now under consideration is the salient fact, which has innumerable illustrations on every day of the week.

It seems easy enough to do the right thing, as easy as the rule laid down by Spurgeon for getting to heaven, "Turn to the right and keep straight on." The trouble with many people is that they persist in turning to the left when they come face to face with a pair of swinging doors. A plain duty is incumbent on those who know what ought to be done in such circumstances. Let them never depart from the established rule, never take the left hand door, even if it is swung alluringly open at the right moment by some one coming in the opposite direction.

That is the only path of safety. By walking in it unswervingly those who have learned the lesson will be able to exert some educative influence upon those who go astray as often as the opportunity presents itself. Let the former not be discouraged if the influence is small. The cumulative force of the right is mighty, and one hazards little in saying that in time the use of the right hand door will become universal. The present generation may not live to see the day, but those who lend a hand in the accomplishment of this reform may rest assured that the triumph of the cause, though long delayed, will be sure.

Keep to the right in meeting people on the sidewalk. Above all, keep to the right when entering a building or an apartment provided with swinging doors.—New York Tribune.

A Boys' Theater.

On very stormy afternoons the boys played theater in the large garret of the Boys' Hubert street house, a convenient closet, with a door and a window, serving for the castle of Elsinore in "Hamlet," for the gunroom of the ship in "Black Eyed Susan" or for the studio of Phidias in "The Marble Heart," as the case might be. "The Brazilian Ape," requiring more action than words, was a favorite entertainment, only they all wanted to play Jocko the Ape, and they would have made no little success out of the "Lady of Lyons" if any of them had been willing to play Pauline. Their costumes and properties were slight and not always accurate, but they could "launch the curse of Rome" and describe "two hearts beating as one" in a manner rarely equaled on the regular stage. The only thing they really lacked was an audience, neither Lizzie Gustin nor Ann Hughes ever being willing to sit through more than one act at a time. When the boy, as Virginius, stabbed all the feathers out of the pillow which represented the martyred Virginia, and when Joe Stuart, as Falstaff, broke the bottom out of Ann Hughes' clothes-basket, the license was revoked, and the season came to an untimely end.—"A Boy I Knew," by Laurence Hutton, in St. Nicholas.

ACME OF SKILL.

The New York Central's Bridge Over the Harlem.

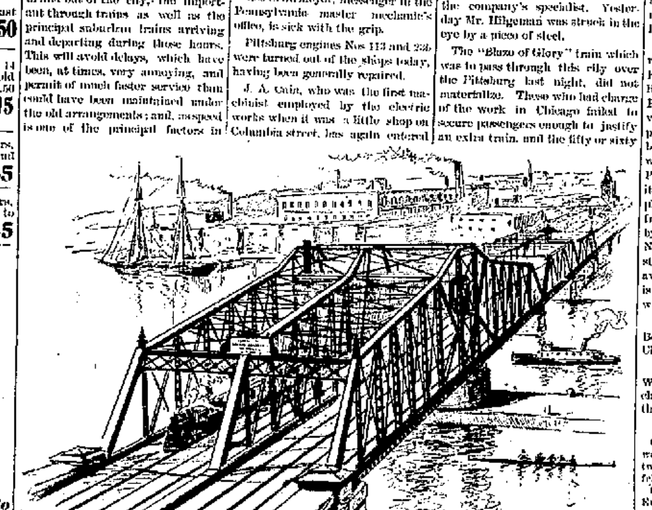

The Only Four-Track Railway Draw Bridge in the World—Details of the Built.

The accompanying illustration represents an end view and a side view of one of the most remarkable feats of engineering on record, the New York Central's four-track draw bridge over the Harlem river, which has just been completed and open for travel. Going south at One Hundred and Forty-ninth street the tracks of this railroad begin to rise gradually until One Hundred and Thirteenth street is reached, where they strike the bridge and cross the river at an elevation of twenty-four feet above high tide.

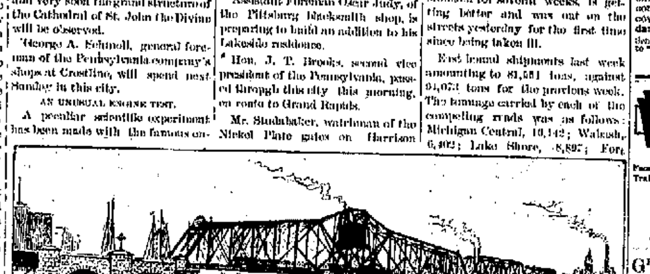

This massive structure is remarkable in being the first four-track draw-bridge ever constructed, and is the largest bridge of the kind in the world. It is 400 feet long and weighs 2,500 tons. The draw-bridge is fifty-eight feet six inches wide, from centre to centre of outside trusses, and is carried on three very heavy trusses. Between the central and each of the two side trusses is a clear space of twenty-six feet, which permits the passage of two sets of double tracks. The floor is corrugated, and the rails are bolted to it on steel tie plates. The trusses of the draw-bridge span are sixty-four feet high in the centre and twenty-five feet high at each end. At the highest part of these trusses is situated the engine house, which contains two oscillating double cylinder engines, which turn the draw, and can be worked together or separately, so that if one should break down at any time, the other can do the work.

The construction of this bridge began in the early autumn of 1893 and continued without cessation until its completion, which was effected February 3, at a cost of considerably more than $3,000,000. The completion of the bridge and the elevation of the tracks has permitted the opening of all cross streets under the railway and given a perfectly free passage to street traffic. One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street, which has become a great thoroughfare, is now entirely free, as the trains which heretofore crossed it at grade now pass over it at an elevation that allows street cars and all traffic perfect freedom. At One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street the tracks cross the street fourteen feet above the level of the street, and at this point a magnificent passenger station is to be built, extending from One Hundred and Twenty-fifth to One Hundred and Twenty-sixth street, under the four-track viaduct.

The Harlem river, having been declared by congress a ship canal, the secretary of war has issued orders that all tugs and barges shall joint their smokestacks and flagpoles, to enable them to pass under the bridge while it is closed. He has also ordered that the bridge shall not be opened between the hours of 7 and 10 o'clock in the morning, and 4 and 7 in the afternoon, except for police, fire or government vessels, the hours named covering the great business traffic in and out of the city, the important through trains as well as the principal suburban trains arriving and departing during those hours. This will avoid delays, which have been, at times, very annoying, and permit of much faster service than could have been maintained under the old arrangements; and, as speed is one of the principal factors in travel in this age, this feature will prove an important one.

Quite a number of the great improvements which have recently been made in the northern part of the city can be seen from the trains as they pass over the new viaduct. Among them are Grant's tomb, St. Luke's hospital and the buildings of Barnard college and Columbia College, on Morningside Heights, and very soon the grand structure of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine will be observed.

George A. Schmoll, general foreman of the Pennsylvania company's shops at Crestline, will spend next Sunday in this city.

AN UNUSUAL ENGINE TEST.

A peculiar scientific experiment has been made with the famous engine 870, on the New York Central, which has covered a very large mileage at high speed since constructed, exceeding even the famous 999, which hauled the Empire express. This engine has been taken into the shops and completely overhauled. When built every part of the engine, from the massive wheels to the very smallest bolt and nut, was separately weighed. The heavy portions were weighed in the shops and the small parts were taken to a Watervliet avenue pharmacy, where they were weighed on the pharmacist's scales. The greatest care was taken by the machinists under the direction of Master Mechanic Buchanan to see that the weighing was accurate. Recently the engine was taken back to the shops and mechanics were put to work dissecting it again. Once more every part was weighed. The scales of the pharmacist were brought into service again. When every portion had been weighed the record was compared with the former one. Then Master Mechanic Buchanan knew just how much the engine had lost in weight through the wear of a known amount of work. The record of the weights of the separate parts also show which parts were subjected to the most wear. The test was a costly one, but the New York Central was willing to spend the money in order that it might be able to know what parts of an engine wear out most quickly and in what ratio the several parts wear out. The results are awaited with interest by mechanical engineers and master mechanics.

BRIEF MENTION.

Pittsburg Engineer M. O'Brien is sick and off duty.

John Wackmiller, of the electric works, was at Garrett, Ind., last night.

Joseph Ganzer, a machinist at the electric works, has recovered from an attack of the grip.

Leo Schirmeyer, messenger in the Pennsylvania master mechanic's office, is sick with the grip.

Pittsburg engines Nos 113 and 230 were turned out of the shops today, having been generally repaired.

J. A. Cain, who was the first machinist employed by the electric works when it was a little shop on Columbia street, has again entered the service of that company after an absence of seven or eight years.

Theo Kocker, of A. H. Pollmann's office, is improving and is sitting up today. He had a severe attack of the grip.

Passenger Engineer P. Keegan, of the Pittsburg, was attacked by the grip last evening and is too ill to go out on his run.

Assistant Foreman Oscar Judy, of the Pittsburg blacksmith shop, is preparing to build an addition to his Lakeside residence.

Hon. J. T. Brooks, second vice president of the Pennsylvania, passed through this city this morning, en route to Grand Rapids.

Mr. Studebaker, watchman of the Nickel Plate gates on Harrison street, found a valuable package on Columbia street in front of the Wayne hotel last evening.

Capt. R. H. Harrison, of the Pittsburg shops, now rides in a handsome new buggy, just out of the Vogely shops.

Dayton Bevelheimer, a gang foreman of Pennsylvania bridge carpenters, is having a serious time with a huge boil upon one of his arms.

The electric works sent an 1,800 light incandescent dynamo to the Fostoria Light and Power company, Fostoria, Ohio, and a motor to Philadelphia.

Albert Burchard, who had been kept from his duties in the Pittsburg planing mills a few days by the illness of his mother, returned to work this morning.

Engineer Theodore Gould, of the Pittsburg, is in receipt of news from Grayville, Ill., to the effect that his son, W. A. Gould, who resides there, has been presented with a daughter.

Mrs. Johnson, wife of Machinist J. H. Johnson, is recovering from an illness and her husband took his old place in the shops this morning, after an absence of about two weeks.

Capt. H. M. Deihl and Joseph Harris left last evening for the Cleveland and Pittsburg division of the Pennsylvania lines, where they will spend two or three weeks with the air brake car. Hereafter Mr. Harris will instruct employes in the use of the air brake, vice Captain Deihl, who was recently appointed assistant foreman of the Pittsburg machine shops, and the trip east at this time is to install him in his new position.

Fred Hilgeman, a machinist in the Wabash shops, has gone to Springfield, Ill., to have an injured eye operated upon by Dr. Prince, the company's specialist. Yesterday Mr. Hilgeman was struck in the eye by a piece of steel.

The "Blaze of Glory" train which was to pass through this city over the Pittsburg last night, did not materialize. Those who had charge of the work in Chicago failed to secure passengers enough to justify an extra train, and the fifty or sixty who were secured were taken to Pittsburg in special cars attached to a Panhandle train. There were crowds at the depots at Warsaw, Plymouth, Valparaiso and elsewhere to see the train, but the watchers were doomed to disappointment.

Blacksmith George Killen, of the Pittsburg shops, who had been afflicted with neuralgia of the stomach for several weeks, is getting better and was out on the streets yesterday for the first time since being taken ill.

East bound shipments last week amounting to 81,551 tons, against 94,073 tons for the previous week. The tonnage carried by each of the competing roads was as follows: Michigan Central, 10,142; Wabash, 6,402; Lake Shore, 8,897; Fort Wayne, 11,271; Panhandle, 12,429; Baltimore and Ohio, 6,740; Grand Trunk, 7,333; Nickel Plate, 7,518; Erie, 7,731; Big Four, 4,297.

All the employes of the United Counties railway, which runs from St. Johns to St. Hyacinth, province of Quebec, are on a strike because they have not been paid for thirteen months. They number 200, and are nearly all French Canadians.

The St. Louis and Detroit east-bound passenger train on the Wabash road, was run off the track at Newton early yesterday morning on the Lake Erie crossing, the derail switch of the target being so placed as to cause the wreck. Nobody injured.

The receiver of the Columbus and Hocking Valley yesterday appointed W. A. Mills traffic manager in charge of both passenger and freight business. The office of general manager has been abolished. Mr. Mills took charge without any ceremony, he being a practical railroad man.

The low price at which rails can now be bought, and fish plates, spikes, etc., used in track laying, has caused the Big Four people to again consider doubling its tracks the entire distance between Indianapolis and Cincinnati. From Indianapolis east for five miles and from Cincinnati west for thirteen miles that track is now practically double, which leaves ninety-two miles to be provided with a second track. The improvement could be made at less than one-half the cost it would four years ago, when the matter was up for consideration.

Conductor D. M. Sauer is sick and Brakeman Fred Wolf is taking a few days rest. Both are Nickel Plate employes.

The Epworth league of Indiana has selected the Big Four as its official route to Toronto for the annual convention, going via Buffalo and Niagara Falls.

Nickel Plate Engineer Joseph Bracht and Firemen Frank Bond and Joseph Barber are off duty, the two former on account of sickness and the latter resting.

Brakemen Schoonover and Auth, of the Nickel Plate, are on duty again. The former was sick ten days and the latter was off duty looking after some private affairs.

The New York Central is testing a railroad tie, the invention of Monroe H. Blake, of Columbus, Ohio. It is something new in the line of a metal crosstie. Mr. Blake was formerly in the engineering department of the Pennsylvania company.

Brakeman and Mrs. C. H. Baird are now comfortably domiciled at No. 3 Harrison street, and Mr. Baird has resumed his duties on the Nickel Plate. The couple were married last Monday, the lady's maiden name being Miss Emma Beaver.

Agents of the Pennsylvania railroad, it is stated, recently went to Europe to negotiate for a regular line of steamers between Pinner's Point (the terminus of the Pennsylvania and Southern), and European ports. It is stated that they have been successful, and that the line will be in operation as soon as the Pennsylvania and the Belt line, with its extensive terminals, have completed arrangements to handle freight. The Belt line is to be built by the New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk, and contracts for its construction, it is understood, will be awarded this week. Over $250,000 is to be expended in building wharves and warehouses.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

Celebrated for its great leavening strength and healthfulness. Assures the food against alum and all forms of adulteration common to the cheap brands. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

DO NOT WAIT

Until You Are Sick in Bed With La Grippe, Pneumonia,

Lung Fever, Bronchitis, Asthma or Catarrh. But Procure Hiron's Remedies at Once and Avoid Dangers—They Will Cure You.

Catarrh, one of the most troublesome and dangerous diseases known to mankind, can in the large majority of cases, be permanently cured. Many who were victims to that disease have been cured, and many more are being cured. Double treatment for Catarrh does its work effectually; clearing it out of the head, driving it out of the blood, where it exists, and ever will exist, unless the health destroying virus is eradicated from the system. Cure it. For it is not only a constant discomfort, but a perpetual menace to life. Use the New Asthma and Cough Cure as the blood purifier, and the Speedy Catarrh Cure for the nasal treatment for Catarrh, and soon those troublesome and distressing symptoms will disappear. The constant dripping of the mucous into the throat, and the pain in the head will cease. The hearing, sight, smell, and taste will be restored. Remember that a disease of long standing, one that has grown until it permeates every drop of blood in the body, cannot be cured within a few days or weeks, though the cleansing and healing processes begin with the first use of the two medicines.

HIRONS NEW ASTHMA AND COUGH CURE.

Asthma is a contraction of the nerves connected with the lungs, and is produced by three causes. First, by a sensitive area of mucous membrane. Second, an abnormally sensitive nerve center, and third, by an external irritant. With all three of these factors simultaneously, an attack of Asthma is produced. The disease often arises from Heart trouble, nasal catarrh and dyspepsia. Some of the symptoms, short, quick, difficult breathing, wheezing, with spells of coughing and suffocation. Asthma is supposed by some to be incurable, but the use of a few bottles of Hirons' New Asthma and Cough Cure will prove to the contrary.

A Word From Charles Yagerlehner, the Electrician.

Hirons Medicine Co., Room 3 Schmitz Block, Fort Wayne, Ind.:

DEAR SIRS—I have had a bad case of catarrh for 14 years. There was a constant dripping of mucous into my throat. Every morning my nose, head and throat would be filled up. After a terrible siege of trying to remove the mucous I would become so sick that it was with difficulty that I could eat my breakfast. I had no appetite. The disease developed into bronchitis and dyspepsia. I read of your Double Treatment for Catarrh, and after having used your remedies for a short time, I can cheerfully say that now my appetite is good, I have no more trouble with indigestion, my throat is well, and my general health has not been as good for years.

[Signed] CHARLES YAGERLEHNER.

Hemorrhage of the Lungs Cured.

Miss Anna Schoeph, who resides at 103 W. Superior St., says: I take great pleasure in signing the following statement: All my life I have been afflicted with a bronchial cough. A year ago I had a hemorrhage of the lungs. Since that time for months I have been troubled with hemorrhages. I was advised by a friend to use your New Asthma and Cough Cure. I have taken four bottles of the remedy. I have no more soreness in my lungs and the hemorrhages have ceased. I cannot say enough in the praise of your medicine.

Signed. ANNA SCHOEPH.

Has Not Wheezed for Over Three Years.

Mr. Frank Joly, the well known Columbia street grocer, makes this statement over his signature: "I contracted Asthma about twelve years ago while working in a damp cellar. Many nights during that time I had to be propped up on my pillow in order that I might breathe. I used many remedies but received no permanent relief. Three years ago I tried Hirons' New Asthma and Cough Cure, and after having used two bottles of the remedy I was entirely cured. I have never wheezed since.

"[Signed.] FRANK JOLY, "70 E. Columbia St."

Cured of Catarrh.

The Hirons Medicine Co., Room 3, Schmitz Block, City.

DEAR SIRS:—I am twenty-eight years old, had Catarrh all my life. For years my appetite was bad. I could not sleep well. I was becoming deaf. The disease in my head became so bad that one could hear the air escape from my ear. To sum it all up, the disease was killing me by inches. I heard of your double treatment for Catarrh and began the use of the medicine at once. After using eight bottles of your remedies, I am happy to say, that I have a good appetite, I sleep well, my deafness is cured, and I have gained sixteen and one-half pounds in four months. I advise every one who has Catarrh to give your medicine a trial.

EMMA CAMPBELL, 47 John Street.

"La Grippe Cough Cured."

Hirons' Medicine Co.:

DEAR SIRS:—I had a severe case of La Grippe some time ago and suffered with a terrible cough until I tried a bottle of your New Asthma and Cough Cure. I used only one bottle of the medicine and it cured me entirely. I have had no cough since.

An exchange says that every paper in the state should publish that burnt corn is good for hog cholera. It was first discovered by burning a pile of corn belonging to a distillery. It was thrown to the hogs and eaten by them. Before that a number of them had been dying from cholera, but the disease immediately disappeared. It is so simple a remedy that it can easily be tried.

The bill which catches the common run of fishermen in this city, senate bill No. 98, has passed the house. Under its provisions it is unlawful to take any fish from any waters of the state except with hook and line, which shall be held in the hand and no line shall be used which has to exceed three hooks attached. And it is made unlawful for any person to sell or offer for sale any fish caught in any river or pond in the state—all Indiana lakes to be considered as ponds.

Eighty-three couples took part in the grand march of the Saengerbund ball, given at Randall hall, last evening. It was a mask affair and was a success in every particular. Reineke's orchestra furnished the music and the following committees had charge: Arrangements, F. Rodewald, W. Karostel, William Hahn, F. Oetting and G. Ungerer; floor, J. Auer, J. Bogenshutz, B. Mathy, T. Broeck, P. Richter and A. Becker.

Policeman Bob Dickson, better known as "Base Ball Bobby," is not on his accustomed beat today owing to an event of great moment at home. Yesterday Bob was only a Benedict. Today he is a paterfamilias, and henceforth will bear the burdens that usually fall to a father, including the midnight promenade and the paregoric matinee. But all jokes aside the little stranger is the sweetest bit of feminity that ever arrived on Hoosier soil, weighing just ten and a half pounds.

The members of the Wayne street M. E. church formed themselves into a reception committee last evening to greet visitors who came to view the new auditorium. The church was ablaze with lights and the beauty of the interior was brought out with striking effect. Tea and fruit sherbets were served in the dining room. The new organ was opened and Mrs. Frank Stouder, the organist of the church, rendered several selections, which were executed finely and artistically.

At the last meeting of the Parliamentary Coterie the names of mesdames G. F. Felts, Alex Lauferty, D. N. Foster and G. E. FARMERS WIN.

Refused to Pay Toll on the Maumee Turnpike

Because of the Bad Condition of the Road and Justice Huser Decides in Their Favor.

This morning Justice Huser heard the case brought by the stockholders of the Maumee avenue turnpike seeking to force Edward Swift to pay arrearages of toll. The case is a test one and upon its decision rested what would be done in regard to other cases of a similar character.

The plaintiffs declare that Edward Swift, the defendant, was the leader of a number of farmers who refused to pay toll and that he would laugh at the keeper's demands for the usual toll charges. Swift is the driver of the Maysville mail route, and he made no denial to the charges, nor in fact did any of the witnesses who were called, many of whom testified that they had used the road and refused to pay toll.

The law governing toll roads provides that if the road be in bad condition those using it may not be compelled to pay charges, and the defense in the case is based upon this clause. The witnesses testified that the road was in bad condition and dangerous to vehicles and horses in some places.

The toll road is owned by a company composed of Fort Wayne capitalists, and is one of the oldest in the county. It is one of the few toll roads remaining in Allen county, and a year ago the county commissioners offered to purchase it with the intention of making it a free road, but the negotiations fell through, as the interested parties refused to accept the price offered.

There were over fifty farmers subpoenaed as witnesses for the defense and, with the spectators, they filled the room. They were all sworn, but when the testimony of only four had been received regarding the bad condition of the road, the plaintiffs conceded the point legally proven and the others were not examined. The justice rendered judgment for the defendants.

The plaintiffs objected to paying the fees of all the witnesses called by the defendant, claiming that the law only allowed four to prove a single point and this question the justice took under advisement. The defendant claims he called the witnesses to dispute any matters the plaintiff might call up.

The disposition of the case will be the means of making it impossible for the road to collect tolls in the future from the farmers unless it has a company of militia present at the gates to enforce the demands of the keeper.

Deputy Prosecutor Thoms appeared for the company and Will E. Colerick for the defendants.

WILL PLAY HERE.

Notre Dame's Crack Basket Ball Team

Accepts an Invitation to Play a Game in This City and a Date for the Contest Is Set.

Physical Director Loveless, of the Y. W. C. A., received a telegram from Mr. D. F. Murphy, manager of the Notre Dame basket ball team, accepting his invitation to play a return game here on March 18. Arrangements will be made at once for the great game. Owing to the amount of space for visitors, only a limited number of tickets will be issued. The local team has received several invitations for out-of-town games before that date, but owing to the university team being such a strong one, it is thought advisable by the managers to keep the team here and give them all the practice possible, and all who witness the game on the 18th are assured the finest and most exciting game ever played in this city, not excepting base ball or football.

The Notre Dame team are gentlemen in every respect and the local team will do everything in its power to make them have a good time. Of course they expect defeat as it did when on their grounds. Mr. Wilson, a member of the Toledo, Ohio, team, will coach the home team.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Bliss, of Conneaut, O., are in the city today visiting friends. They are on their way from the west, where they have been visiting, to Massachusetts, where Mr. Bliss is connected with the Bliss business college firm, which has a number of schools in different parts of the country.
